Well, okay, it didn't work. But it was an interesting technique.

Police Find Hit & Run Suspect Knitting At Curbside

January 29, 2003 (Miami Beach) — Several elderly patients were injured Tuesday afternoon after a car that witnesses say was traveling more than 100 mph slammed into the van in which they were riding.

Police say that while the van's injured passengers and driver were trapped inside the van, the woman who was driving the car that slammed into them was sitting by the roadside knitting.
