

Pizza: The reference food for young children

 devblogs.microsoft.com/oldnewthing/20100923-01

September 23, 2010

Raymond Chen

One way to convince a child to try out an unfamiliar food is to say that it's an alternate form of pizza. Here are some examples. Feel free to add more in the comments.

- Quesadilla: Mexican pizza
- Dosa: Indian pizza
- Quiche: French deep-dish pizza

I had originally listed crêpe as French pizza, then realized it's more like a French pancake. (I wonder what the Italian version of pizza would be...)

Raymond Chen

Follow

