

It appears that I've never made a complete visit to the Pacific Northwest devblogs.microsoft.com/oldnewthing/20230516-01

May 16, 2023

Raymond Chen

According to the Internet, I have never made a complete visit to the Pacific Northwest. When I searched for the phrase “No trip to the Pacific Northwest is complete without” back in 2013, I learned that, among many other things, I would have to

- go whale watching,
- shop at the Bravern,
- have a drink at Boundary Bay,
- visit Glacier National Park in Montana,
- take a ferry to Bremerton,
- take a trip to Vancouver,
- visit the Future of Flight,
- eat at Burgerville,
- visit Mount Rainier,
- take a sightseeing tour of Camano Island.

Apparently, a complete visit to the Pacific Northwest is exhausting.