ENISA Threat Landscape for Ransomware Attacks

Download

PDF document, 1.67 MB

This report aims to bring new insights into the reality of ransomware incidents through mapping and studying ransomware incidents from May 2021 to June 2022. Based on the findings, ransomware has adapted and evolved, becoming more efficient and causing more devastating attacks.

Published

July 29, 2022

Language

Executive summary

ENISA Threat Landscape for Ransomware Attacks.pdf

Share this page

Was this page helpful?

Your feedback can help us maintain or improve our content.